Scammers use a variety of techniques to convince you to hand over your hard-earned money.

Scammers are targeting seniors in New Jersey, trying to convince them to put money into phony investments. They often initiate a months-long friendship or romantic relationship to build trust before disappearing with their money. Often victims are left financially devastated and will likely never see their money again.

These relationship investment scams are sometimes referred to as "pig butchering scams."

Join the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and the New Jersey Office of the Attorney General for a basic understanding of how scam artists work and how you can avoid scams and protect your money.
